

Tim in KY TdF Stage 19 is 173 kilometers through the foothills of the Jura Mountains from Moirans-en-Montagne north to Poligny. The route loops back on itself at the beginning and again at the end.

Tim in KY The stage is classified as "flat" but appears to be anything but. There is 2000 meters of vertical gain and two categorized climbs, a Cat 4 that crests 24 kilometers from the start and a Cat 3 that crests 26 km from the finish. The finish is on a slight uphill ramp but the last eight km are on a dead-straight road.

BusterSci Frau and I took a Mozz making class a few years ago. We could make our own, but you have to buy like 5 pounds of curd to do it (assuming you can't get raw buffalo milk locally which I think is pretty a pretty safe assumption in most places) and that's a lot of mozzarella even with our weekly pizza night. But pulling it and forming balls was fun, and the stuff was delicious.

Katie Lane We had round after round of the "œred-on-radar" t-storms yesterday evening and all night long, continuing in the wee hours with more this morning. We have stayed in the direct line of these because of the direction they're traveling as they keep forming. 5 inches in the rain gauge this morning, but we may have had more because that's all it holds and it was overflowing.
