Alaska Dave Good morning from the rainforest. Favorite social media post: rain at a 45 degree angle discourages trick or treating. Followed by the comment: It is now a much more reasonable 33 degree angle rain...

11-01-2020
07:42:08

BusterSci Hate peanut M&Ms. Â Which means we'd make good trick or treating partners because I'm sure there's stuff I like that you don't, and we could trade.

11-01-2020
07:42:44

BusterSci We had a princess, Darth Vader, young Obi Wan and a T-Rex show up. Ripley hates the T-Rex. The other costumes just make her wag her tail and want to say hi, but the kids take out the T-Rex suits a few times a year and she just wants to attack. 11-01-2020 07:44:33

BusterSci Darth and Obi-Wan were not here at the same time, so there was no conflict there. We had full size Hershey bars and Kit Kats. When the kids came we put one of each in a fishing net and then stuck the net out the door. The parents thought it was funny, which was the point. 11-01-2020 07:46:00

Alaska Dave Lots of candy, but few Kit Kat™s and peanut butter cups left here. There was a trunk of treating event in a mall parking lot using the cars as wind blocks. 11-01-2020 07:48:36

BusterSci We're on a long cul-de-sac, so we don't get a lot of traffic here. I checked with the three families with kids that they'd be out (2 were, 1 was going to relatives.) So we kept the lights on until the neighbors were taken care of. 11-01-2020 07:50:38

Charlie in Tenn We had nice weather. A little chilly but with most costumes that is a plus. I saw Snow White, Dorothy, some other princess, and a couple zombies (or poor make-up jobs). I saw lots more but they were either walking the street or leaving. There was not enough action to actually sit and watch. 11-01-2020 07:52:56

Tim in KY Gold is up already and the riders are in neutral. 11-01-2020 08:04:14

BusterSci I delivered the Chicago Tribune for a while when I was in college. For a guy that wakes early, it was easy money. The circulation manager 11-01-2020 08:06:25 loved me and gave me all the condos on the near north side. Â I could ride the elevator to the top, then I'd hit all the buttons going down. Â With 4 or 6 doors per floor, all around the foyer off the elevator, it was just a matter of flinging the papers out the elevator door. Â I could get out 200 papers in about 45 minutes.

BusterSci Would have been great trick-or-treat territory.
