

Tim in Ky Giro stage 19 is another ride up and down the mountains of northeast Italy. 05-25 14:29

This is 191 kilometer a and ends on a mountain top.

Tim in Ky There is an early Cat 1, a mid-stage Cat 2 and the finale up a Cat 1. There 05-25 14:34 are two intermediate sprints, the first one of which is on top of an uncategorized climb. There is a bit of flat land before the final climb.

upload.s3.amazonaws.com/61922326bc2ef459e5ed5de71ef53a57/1495737557-T19_Piancavallo_alt-1.jpg

Tim in Ky The final climb of 15.5 kilometers has an average gradient of 7.3% but 05-25 14:38 that's a bit deceptive. The first 10 km have gradients between 9% and 14%, the last 5 km are 5% to 7.5%.

Tim in Ky The last 1500 meters are a very gentle 2% except the last 100 m bite in at 05-25 14:41

memb54 Thanks, Tim. I'm glad I won't be in the saddle with these guys tomorrow! 05-25 15:02

Alison Quarles Thanks, Tim. It really does help to know what's coming tomorrow! 05-25 15:32

BusterSci When is lunch today, Mons? 05-26 05:28

memb54 Good morning! The sun will rise in another few minutes and I'm raring to go.05-26 06:03

memb54 What did you think of TD's comments after yesterday's stage? 05-26 06:04

Tim in Ky Maite, I think he's right but probably shouldn't have said it. 05-26 06:05

BusterSci I'm mixed. I think mind games are part of the deal in a GT, and asserting dominance is part of the game. On the other hand, it could just as easily be that the tactics in question have gotten in Tom's mind and his normally reserved and careful public image cracked a bit. 05-26 06:09

Tim in Ky They are underway in stage 19. 05-26 06:10

Tim in Ky Up, up and away. 05-26 06:10 memb54 He's proved to be a good climber this year. I need his points to get back onto the first page in the fantasy game! :-)) 05-26 06:11

memb54 And I'm off to get ready for work. Catch up with you when I get to the office.05-26 06:12

Rob Is it a tough stage tomorrow? Just wondering if the other GC guys have to make a move today? 05-26 06:15

BusterSci Tomorrow is maybe a bit less than today, but still a stage that something could happen. 05-26 06:16

BusterSci Two Cat 1s tomorrow, and they're big climbs. But the finish is 15 km from the last summit over a rolling course with a bit of descent. 05-26 06:17

BusterSci Small gap for Pello Bilbao (Astana), Giulio Ciccone (Bardiani-CSF), Maciej Paterski (CCC Sprandi Polkowice), Lars Bak (Lotto Soudal) and Daniel Teklehaimanot (Dimension Data). 05-26 06:22

Tim in Ky No Gazprom. Could be an issue. 05-26 06:23

Tim in Ky I was surprised to see that Jungels is only 0:28 off the BYR lead. He was quite en retard yesterday. 05-26 06:25

	BusterSci he had a solid lead before, due mostly to his TT performance. He'll smash Sunday's TT so 28s isn't nearly enough for Yates.	05-26 06:26
	BusterSci But Yates has two more chances to add to his lead. Tom will benefit from QS, Cannondale and Orica fighting for that jersey.	05-26 06:27
	BusterSci 15s for the small break. Doesn't seem like it's going to stick.	05-26 06:28
	Tim in Ky On the KOM side, Landa probably has a lock on that jersey unless LuLe does something quite improbable.	05-26 06:28
	Tim in Ky Speaking of tomorrow's stage, I'm going to call that the wine and cheese stage.	05-26 06:29
	BusterSci Fraile has an outside shot, too.	05-26 06:29
	BusterSci Definitely a cheesy ending.	05-26 06:31
	BusterSci I suspect when they cross the line in Asiago they'll feel freshly grated as well.	05-26 06:31
	Rob Wine and cheese? Nah tomorrow I will be brewing some craft ale ready for the tour.	05-26 06:32
	Tim in Ky But will they be light-headed after attaining the peak of Grappa?	05-26 06:33
	Tim in Ky Bilbao gets top points on the Cat 3.	05-26 06:36
	Tim in Ky Tankink has abandon.	05-26 06:36
	BusterSci it's the fizzy toasts they'll have when they pass through Valdobbiadene that'll interest me. Once I found Prosecco I stopped bothering with most champagne.	05-26 06:36
	BusterSci Gotta hurt to abandon on stage 19.	05-26 06:37

Tim in Ky I'm a Cava man myself.

05-26 06:37

BusterSci Cava is wonderful, I agree. I just have much better access to a variety of Prosecco. For some reason Cava isn't widely available here.

05-26 06:38

Tim in Ky The strange ways of the nordics.

05-26 06:39

BusterSci Rosa and Rui Costa trying to bridge.

05-26 06:42

BusterSci Bringing Cava to the front?

05-26 06:42

Tim in Ky What's the fizzy wine of Portugal?

05-26 06:44

BusterSci Port and Coke?

05-26 06:44

Tim in Ky Rosa and Costa are back in the bunch.

05-26 06:44

Tim in Ky As are Ciccone and Bak .

05-26 06:45

BusterSci Espumante

05-26 06:45

Tim in Ky The lead trio have 0:35 on the descent.

05-26 06:46

Tim in Ky Video is up on Fubo but it's just finish line shots.

05-26 06:52

Tim in Ky We've had no time gap update for ten minutes.

05-26 06:53

BusterSci Sounds like people are bridging to the lead group but they're only about 30s ahead.

05-26 07:00

Tim in Ky Clément Chevrier (Ag2r La Mondiale), Pello Bilbao (Astana), Nicola
Boem (Bardiani-CSF), Gregor Mühlberger (Bora-Hansgrohe), Pierre Rolland (Cannondale-Drapac), Maciej Paterski (CCC Sprandi Polkowice), Tobias Ludvigsson (FDJ), Evgeny Shalunov (Gazprom-Rusvelo), José Herrada (Movistar), Dries Devenyns (Quick-Step Floors), Daniel Teklehaimanot
(Dimension Data), Jurgen Van den Boreck (LottoNL-Jumbo), Rui Costa (UAE Team Emirates) and Ilia

05-26 07:01

Koshevoy (Wilier-Selle Italia). But the gap is tiny.

Tim in Ky The video is about to go live but then we'll have 5 minutes of highlights and travelogue before we get to see the race.

05-26 07:05

Tim in Ky Here we go.

Mons Soseman Hey guys, I think I caught a bit of the dumoulins yesterday, I finally figured it out.... and see, I even managed to finish my ride. Much better today.

05-26 07:05

Mons Soseman Lunch will be ready in a few minutes, you hungry penguin

05-26 07:06

Mons Soseman So please tell me if that posted or not?

After a full month of post-OS update failure to communicate with my Time Machine backup unit, I meticulously spent hours yesterday offloading photos, videos and all other files to my external drive. I did this in anticipation of performing the 15-Step process I found in the Apple Forums to open the lines of communication again. Last night, when I went to begin the repair process, I found my computer 75% of the way through a back-up. Are you freaking kidding me? 	Joanna in New York No Chrome. Have used Gmail for a long time without issue. This OS Sierra update/Time Machine issue exists, as I found out on the forums. It is just so bizarre, but is backing up now, so I really don't have much to complain about. There is just part of me that wants to know WHY this happens. I really hate updates...	05-26 08:03
	BusterSci It happens because software is incredibly complex and the industry works under the philosophy of "move fast and break things."	05-26 08:05
	BusterSci 1:08 and 1:54 at 102km	05-26 08:05
	Joanna in New York Too true.	05-26 08:05
	BusterSci The gaps change so fast I have a hard time keeping up.	05-26 08:05
	Joanna in New York An army of beta testers...	05-26 08:05
	BusterSci Beta testers, customers. There's not much difference anymore.	05-26 08:06
	Joanna in New York Exactly.	05-26 08:06
	BusterSci From CN: Eurosport's Brian Smith has spoken to a team DS in the race and he says there was no mention of a nature break on race radio, and no sign of Dumoulin stopped at the roadside. So was he just badly positioned, and caught napping?	05-26 08:08
	Charles Davis Hello everyone. I will be traveling this morning so you guys cheer for	05-26 08:08 tejay and Landa again today. Haha. I will check in at rest stops and after I get my wife to drive. Crossed fingers.

Joanna in New York Sightseeing, Buster?

05-26 08:09

Joanna in New York Yes, Charles, we'll all be cheering for Tejay and Wanda (cough, cough).

05-26 08:09

BusterSci 1:00 and 1:17

05-26 08:10

BusterSci 20s now the difference between attackers and pink. About a minute back from the break

05-26 08:11

Joanna in New York All I have to offer today is NRRBBB - awaiting news of whether or not you can all call me "Grandma", not a human child, but an Artie Baby. :)

05-26 08:11

BusterSci 25s and 1:09 the gaps now to the leaders

05-26 08:13

BusterSci 25s and 52s

05-26 08:14

Mons Soseman Congratulations on the Aartie Baby, Joanna

05-26 08:14

BusterSci Two LottoNL boyos are leading Tom right now.

05-26 08:14

Joanna in New York Thank you, Mons - will know today for sure if the mare is "in foal". Fingers and toes crossed!!

05-26 08:14

BusterSci Nibali may be attacking his group.

05-26 08:15

BusterSci 14s and 50s

05-26 08:15

	BusterSci he's leading his group now	05-26 08:17
	BusterSci Yates comes up to help	05-26 08:17
	BusterSci Tom doesn't look panicked yet.	05-26 08:17
	BusterSci Nibali, Pinot, Zakarin and Quintana are behind a single Movistar in the lead.	05-26 08:18
	BusterSci 25s to pink with LottoNL still driving the peloton.	05-26 08:18
	BusterSci Oh ho! Sunweb DS confirms the attack came during a pee break.	05-26 08:19
	BusterSci 18s to pink	05-26 08:20
	Joanna in New York Uh oh...	05-26 08:20
	Joanna in New York Someone is Royally Pissed!	05-26 08:20
	BusterSci Hopefully he's pink with rage.	05-26 08:21
	Joanna in New York Anger in his belly, er bladder...	05-26 08:21
	BusterSci This has blown up Sunweb as a team, but Dumoulin does not look pained.	05-26 08:21
	Mons Soseman Despite what I said yesterday, I think attacking during normal breaks like that is uncivilized... the peloton should mind it's pees and qs, or you never know what could happen in the peloton...	05-26 08:22
	BusterSci Trek, Yates, LottoNL and now Cannondale is helping	05-26 08:22
	Joanna in New York Honestly, that was a pretty sh*tty thing to do...so much for the "sign-in" chivalry..	05-26 08:22

	BusterSci In the front of the race it appears Bahrain, Movistar and FDY have fried all but one helper for each team.	05-26 08:23

	BusterSci Nairo Quintana / Face carved from dolomite stone / Perhaps legs are, too	05-26 08:24
	Joanna in New York Apart from being rude, pretty poor race tactics. Let's face it, everyone needs a nature break, this will likely come back to bite them in the tushy.	05-26 08:24
	BusterSci Wanda beat again / Dumpling wearing magma rose / Damn, Autocorrect!	05-26 08:25
	BusterSci It's together again	05-26 08:25
	Mons Soseman Earthy blah/ more than I need/bike beckons	05-26 08:26
	BusterSci An Astana attacks!	05-26 08:29
	BusterSci LuLe it is	05-26 08:29

	Katie Tomorrow starts the begining of Memorial Day Weekend, a weekend I typically avoid going anywhere. Howsomeever, this year my partner and I have decided to do an epic one-day road trip, from the coast of California across the state to Yosemite to have breakfast, see the waterfalls adn drive home. It'll be 9 hours of driving and 4 hours in the park. Are we nuts?	05-26 09:12
	BusterSci They'll be on a gradual upward trajectory over the next 25km or so (just 180m or so over the distance) and then they have 5km of slow descent and then the finishing climb.	05-26 09:13
	Joanna in New York Yes, you are! But what a beautiful sounding trip, Katie! Enjoy, you two!!	05-26 09:13
	BusterSci My parents decided to sell their little wintering shack in Arizona so I hauled their stuff back to the great white north. I made the roundtrip alone, 25 hours down, 30 back, two days each way. Twice.	05-26 09:15
	BusterSci I'll stay home for a bit.	05-26 09:15
	Katie that'd require toothpicks to hold open the eyelids	05-26 09:16
	Marc @Toad Hall \\\\\\\5	05-26 09:16

BusterSci The peloton is again almost whole. (aside from the break and chase) 05-26 09:10

Katie Tomorrow starts the begining of Memorial Day Weekend, a weekend I typically 05-26 09:12 avoid going anywhere. Howsomeever, this year my partner and I have decided to do an epic one-day road trip, from the coast of California across the state to Yosemite to have breakfast, see the waterfalls adn drive home. It'll be 9 hours of driving and 4 hours in the park. Are we nuts?

BusterSci They'll be on a gradual upward trajectory over the next 25km or so (just 05-26 09:13 180m or so over the distance) and then they have 5km of slow descent and then the finishing climb.

Joanna in New York Yes, you are! But what a beautiful sounding trip, Katie! Enjoy, 05-26 09:13 you two!!

BusterSci My parents decided to sell their little wintering shack in Arizona so I hauled 05-26 09:15 their stuff back to the great white north. I made the roundtrip alone, 25 hours down, 30 back, two days each way. Twice.

	BusterSci I'll stay home for a bit.	05-26 09:15

	BusterSci Think about 2 things: 1) the poop, of course. 2) the 6 seconds Nairo took when TD waited for him.	05-26 11:13
	Katie he'll go guts-out tomorrow for sure...	05-26 11:14
	SFinAusTx There were just enough mountains for Quintana et al to crack Tom. Think of Landa had there been no crash on Bockhaus too.	05-26 11:14
	BusterSci Thomas, as well	05-26 11:14
	SFinAusTx Lots to cogitate on , or is it cog -a-tate?	05-26 11:14
	BusterSci And if there had been no crash on Blockhaus, Tom would have had Wilco Keldermann on the climbs	05-26 11:15
	BusterSci I'll post the GC when CN does.	05-26 11:15

	BusterSci That's a little easier to read than the feed capture	05-26 11:15

	BusterSci Vaughters tweets that pure climbers like Nairo always to better in a stage 21 05-26 11:19
	TT than a stage 9 TT
	Katie because ... anticipation? Looming deadline?	05-26 11:20
	BusterSci Recovery. building form	05-26 11:21
	Katie ah, not "dang, outta time. better hustle"??	05-26 11:21
	BusterSci Still waiting for GC from either CN or Giro Official.	05-26 11:22

	BusterSci Top 7 is super tight.	05-26 11:24
	Katie esp top 4. i wanna see Nairo in pink, then i'm off to ... continue working	05-26 11:25
	BusterSci And appropriately, Tom is #2.	05-26 11:25
	SFinAusTx Great GT. (Oh, nice one Buster.)	05-26 11:25
	BusterSci He needs to hang tight tomorrow. If this is the standing going into Sunday, he gets pink.	05-26 11:26
	Joanna in New York Great commentary today, Buster!	05-26 11:27
	BusterSci Thanks, Jo.It's good I'm a fast, touch-typer	05-26 11:27
	BusterSci I can watch and update at the same time	05-26 11:27
	BusterSci Bye now.	05-26 11:28

SFinAusTx Convential wisdom (maybe) would dictate GC save their matches tomorrow, but it's so close maybe somebody will be frisky. Thanks for everything, Buster and all.

05-26 11:28

Katie i think you're right, SF

05-26 11:28

Mons Soseman Wow, I wonder what will happen tomorrow...

05-26 11:31

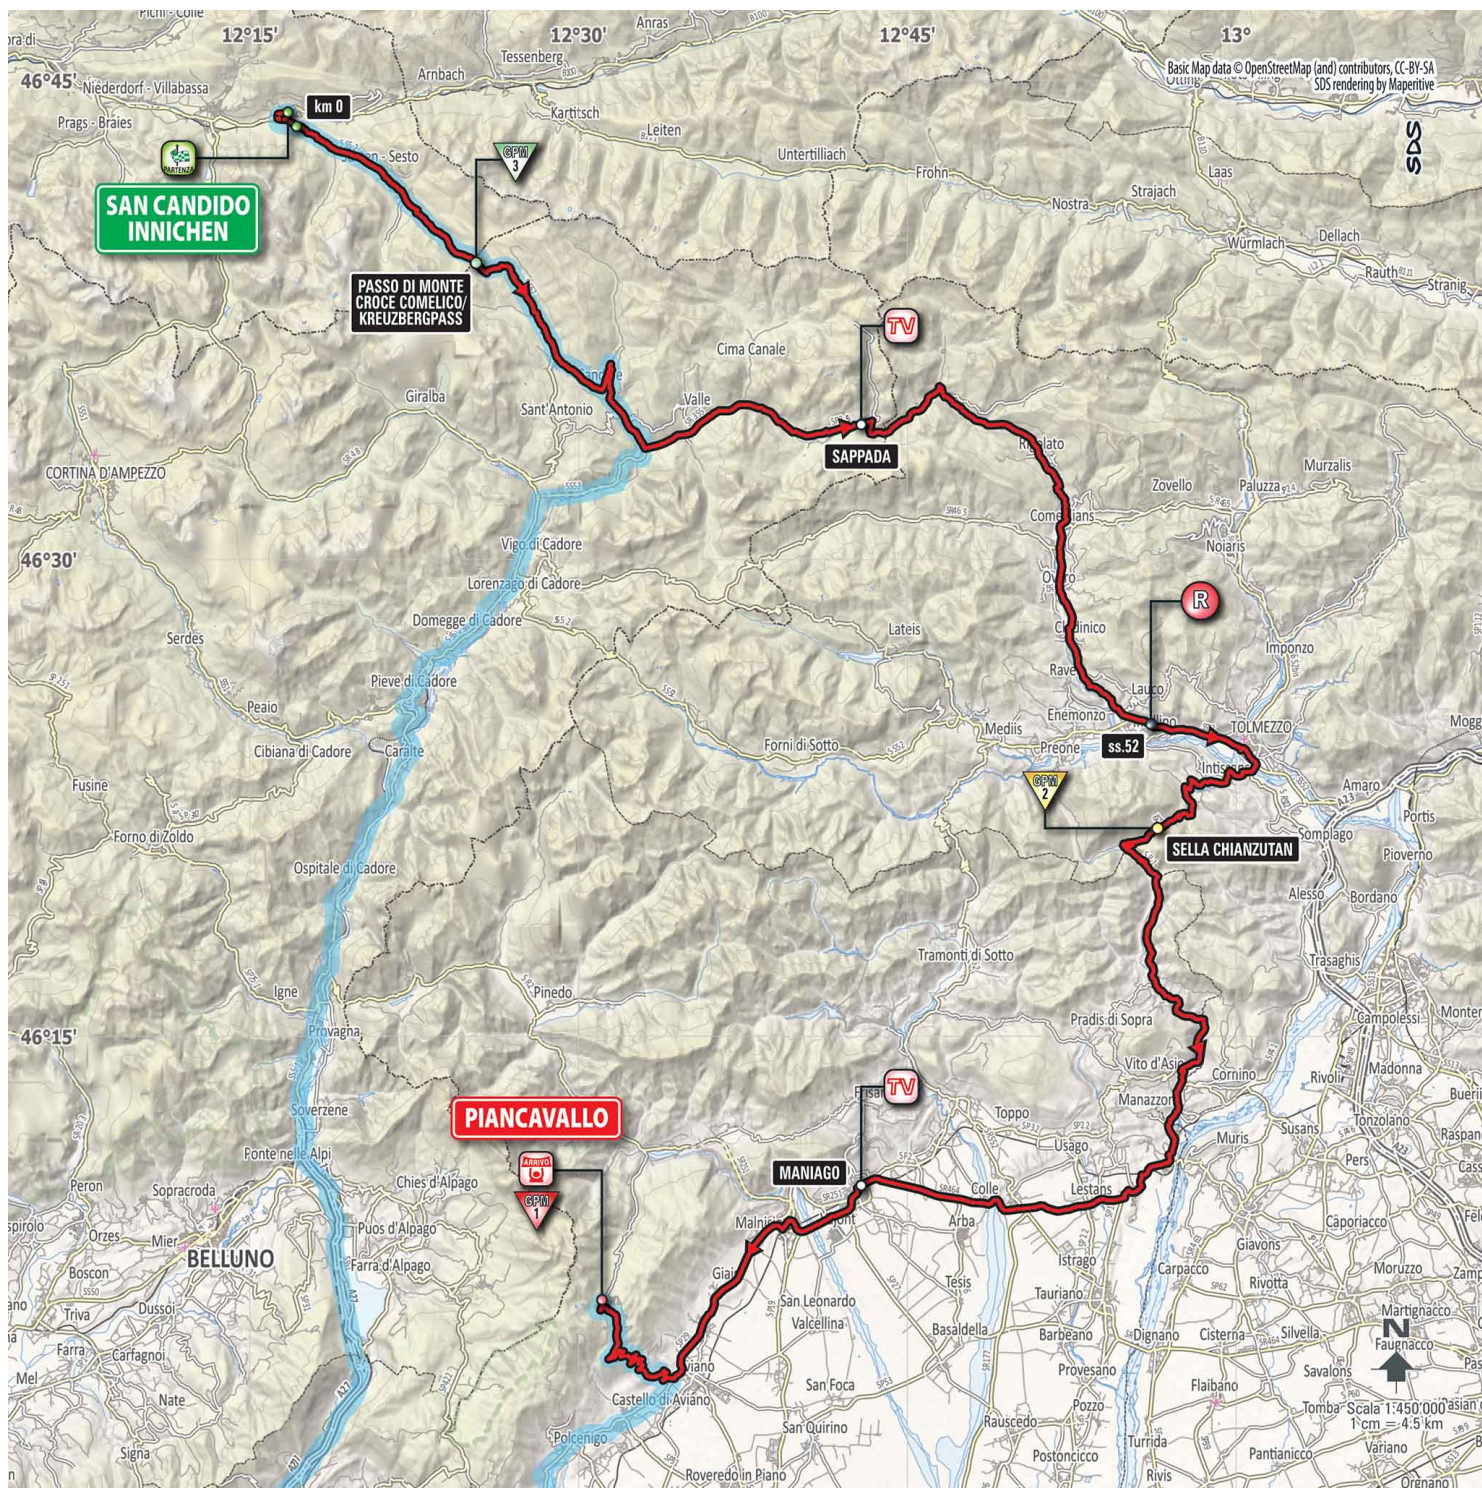

Mons Soseman Another mountain, but are any of these guys good at ITT?

05-26 11:31

Katie There he is in pink! Ciao, all

The antepenultimate stage, or as the Italians say, la terzultima tappa, the third to the last stage of the Giro 2017, begins as a high mountain stage, continues as a high mountain stage, then leaves the mountains, only to reenter them at the end. The Giro departs from San Candido for the first time ever in Giro history, and then passes over three great mountain passes. At the end of the flat part, at Aviano, site of a US Air Force Base, the final climb begins, with the last 15 km all uphill. Near the end the riders go through a tunnel, which was built to protect the road against avalanches, and since this is the Giro, a curved arrival awaits our brave cyclists.

San Candido, or Innichen if you prefer, is a mountain village proud of its heritage. There is much here to remind the casual observer of villages in Austria or Bavaria, even the architecture is more northern than southern. Many of the buildings date from the 12th century, but there is also a fun aqua park (called "Aquafun"), in case you are tired of touring. When it was founded in the high middle ages, the village was called "India." Local specialities include Canederli (again, those giant gnocchi or dumplings) here stuffed with speck ham, spinach, cheese, squash; Bauerngröstl, which is kind of a peasant stir fry, best translation I can do with the time I have; Beef Goulash, Schutskrapfen, which are croissants filled with ricotta cheese or spinach), and Pane pusterese, a local bread in large, round loaves, which is filled with hints of different spices, like fennel and cumin and coriander (sounds like the dough for Quad Cities Style Pizza, and if you don't know what that is, consult wikipedia... yum). Other specialities include Speck (a quite common dried ham), Kaiserschmarrn (similar to a crêpe), Strauben, which comes to us as Funnel Cake (watch for it at a carnival near you. Who knew the origins?), and Apple Strudel.

Piancavallo, the arrival place, is presented as a kind of sportsman's paradise. Always a haven for Winter sports, "modern technologies" have opened up many other kinds of sports to locals and visitors, including paths for hiking (as the website said trekking, or perhaps what the girl scouts, my sisters, used to call orienteering), mountain biking, tennis, swimming, etc. etc. All of that plus Dolomite beauty too. The "Winter Station," founded in the late 1900s has 43 residents, and lots of visitors. Pinot Grigio is produced nearby, and local specialties include wild meats, donkey cheese, saffron, honey, and snails.

Well, on that note, I feel the dumoulins coming back, so I must run... Enjoy the Giro....
